LILY'S SUMMER

By: Amanda Johnston

Once a new sleep away camp opened. The camp was called camp Shankitunk. Lily's parents signed her up to go to the new camp. Lily didn't want to go because her friends told her that it was haunted. Lily told her mom that she didn't want to go but her mom told her that she was doing nothing this summer so she had to go. When Lily got to the camp she set up her bed in the cabin. As Lily was unpacking her bag she heard something fall on the floor. After that day Lily was never found. Twenty four years later they found her body in the woods. The end.

THE DREAM... OR NOT?

By: Emma Yakalis

Jamie walked through the fields to her cabin. She opened the door, plopped down on her bunk, and fell asleep.

She woke up to birds chirping. She looked around. This was totally not camp. Jamie sat up and took a closer look. She was sitting on a little platform in the middle of the woods. On the ground next to her were a water bottle, a flashlight, and a note. She picked up the note and read:

“If you are reading this, it means you have woken up before I got back. I found you wandering around the woods late last night and brought you here.”

Wandering around the woods? Jamie thought. She got up and walked a couple steps. Maybe I’m just in the woods next to camp, she thought hopefully. She heard a twig snap behind her and looked. A girl walked up to her and they waved to each other. Then she started writing on a paper:

The girl’s note: Hi

Jamie’s note: Why are we writing to each other?

The girl’s note: I’m afraid if we speak, it will ruin everything.

Jamie’s note: How?

The girl’s note: Just because.

Jamie’s note: Bring me back to Camp Shankitunk.

The girl’s note: I’m sorry, I can’t. I’m from the future. You have to go by yourself. And don’t forget to time travel back here in two years to find yourself and tell them all of these things.

Jamie blinked, and when she opened her eyes, everything was different. She sat up in her bed and looked at her watch. It was 7:00 in the morning. The counselor walked over to her bed and said, “Everything okay? You must’ve had a bad dream.”

Was that all a dream? Jamie wondered. “Maybe,” said a voice next to her. Jamie turned and saw her future self wink at her.
